Prepared for attendees at the November 30-December 2 2006 IDGA
Intelligence Processing and Analysis Conference, Washington DC.

There are a wide range of excellent resources available from the government, academia and other institutions on the subject of intelligence and we maintain a comprehensive library of these materials that are available from open sources. We have assembled the following list of key documents that are available online; most are available in portable document format (pdf). These documents form an excellent starter reference library for the intelligence professional focusing on the areas of processing and analysis.

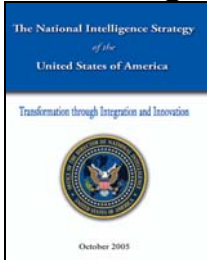

Because we maintain a library of resources, we are always eager to be alerted to other documents that maybe available. We welcome contacts from colleagues in the profession with newly released documents so we can provide pointers to others in the field.
