Association of Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIU)

The Association of Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIU) is an organization whose mission is to provide leadership and promote professionalism in the criminal intelligence community. LEIU was founded in 1956 and subsequently established criminal intelligence standards that are recognized by both law enforcement and civil libertarians as creating a proper balance between the needs of law enforcement and the constitutional privacy rights of individuals.

LEIU maintains a criminal intelligence clearinghouse that facilitates the timely exchange of confidential information among its 240 local, state and federal member agencies. Its annual conference provides for certificated training and the opportunity for intelligence professionals to network with other members and their associates. LEIU also provides its members with evaluation and technical assistance in the formation and organization of their agency's intelligence function. In addition, LEIU provides timely publications and appropriate advocacy for professional criminal intelligence standards on the national level.

LEIU is an agency-based membership. If your agency is not a member and would like to join or receive information on joining, please visit the LEIU website @ www.leiu-homepage.org or for informational material & an application contact LEIU at 916-227-7881.
